I've always thought of church choirs as small groups, in a way - a community, a fellowship, a place to come together. Choir gives people a place to sing and make music, yes, but also feel safe, be vulnerable, and supportive as we carry one another's burdens. This is one of the reasons why I feel it's important to end each rehearsal with prayer.

Teach your choir to pray for the ministry they are part of in choir. Don't let this turn into a long time of prayer requests followed by a short prayer – have the requests submitted ahead of time and lead your choir to pray – in small groups, as individuals, and as a total choir. Make prayer a primary focus of your devotional time.
