The 35 ton Yardmax log splitter went through it like a hot knife through butter. Very impressed at this stage. After the warm up I wanted to really test this machine out by putting some red oak through it that were 34 inches in diameter. 34 inch logs are quite big, so you know the Yardmax can handle even the biggest at this rate.

Introducing a NEW addition to our growing library of computer science titles, Algorithm Design and Applications, by Michael T. Goodrich & Roberto Tamassia! Algorithms is a course required for all computer science majors, with a strong focus on theoretical topics. Students enter the course after gaining hands-on experience with computers, and are expected to learn how algorithms can be applied to a variety of contexts. This new book integrates application with theory. Goodrich & Tamassia believe that the best way to teach algorithmic topics is to present them in a context that is motivated from applications to uses in society, computer games, computing industry, science, engineering, and the internet. The text teaches students about designing and using algorithms, illustrating connections between topics being taught and their potential applications, increasing engagement.

Rob White 's pioneering work in the establishment and growth of green criminology has been part of a paradigm shift for the field of criminology as it has moved to include crimes committed against the environment. For the first time, this book brings together a selection of White 's essays that explore the theories, research approaches and concepts that have been instrumental to our understanding of environmental harm and eco-justice. The book provides an additional foundation for scholarship that goes beyond expression of opinion or immediate empirical finding; the emphasis is on systematic analysis and theoretically informed consideration of complex realities. It serves as a platform for further debate and discussion of green criminology 's theories, perspectives, approaches and concepts and their application to specific sub-areas such as environmental law enforcement, wildlife trafficking, pollution and climate change. Its aim is not to provide answers, but to stimulate further dedicated theoretical contemplation of environmental harms, threats to biodiversity and extinction of species. This is essential reading for all those engaged with green criminology, as well as criminological theory, eco-justice and environment and sustainability studies.

After dying a million times playing the same classic video game, a young boy knows that he will always live, but this time it's different. This time it's raining outside and TIMMY has been in an auto accident. He's home alone and injured and his time is up. The MESSENGER OF DEATH (MOD) comes knocking on the front door to collect the injured boy. TIMMY slowly realizes he will die if he cannot keep the MOD out of his house until the day is over. THE MIGHTY OX, a wrestler and larger-than-life 'star' of video games unexpectedly comes to life. He possesses an extraordinary game-winning 'secret' weapon. Time and time again he proves to be a guardian angel, refusing to let anyone in the house and keeping the boy safe by fighting off the hench-men of the MOD. After using every trick in the book, the MOD realizes he has one last chance to get the boy. He tricks the boy's crafty wrestler by proposing a final old-fashioned, do-or-die, no-holds-barred wrestling match with the boy as the prize. Timmy is nervous. He knows he will make it through the day and live to grow up but when all the chips are down and when the day is almost over, the 'unimaginable' happens. The Mighty Ox's potent and unique game-winning 'secret' weapon turns out to be no secret after all.
