This is a "must" book for children ages 5-12 from addictive families. This is an illustrated workbook that explains and portrays addiction from the viewpoint of children who have at least one addicted parent. Some of the many points covered are: the disease concept, personality changes, blackouts, relapses, and recovery. This workbook gives children the opportunity to share their thoughts and feelings and to better understand addiction. The original pictures and stories were created by children ages five through fourteen. After many years and thousands of children using this workbook, it has been revised to address the fact that today, if a child lives with addiction, it may not be alcohol addiction. The family member may be addicted to other drugs. This revised edition is also expanded to be more inclusive of children whose addicted parent may be their mother. www.claudiablack.com.

As seen and told from the point of view of children, this revised and updated edition of Dr. Claudia Black's My Dad Loves Me, My Dad Has a Disease articulates the challenges of having a parent who struggles with addiction.
