indicate the tuned frequency and preset-channel number (as many as thirty-nine AM or FM frequencies can be stored in a nonvolatile memory for instant recall). Small buttons below the display control most of the receiver's functions.

The NAD 705 does have a nice sound. The amplifier section has enough power for typical, easy to drive speakers. The unit is very light for the power output (40W into 8 ohms) and runs fairly cool. The soft clipping feature does not improve the sound.
